

WASHINGTON, D. C., SUNDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 27, 1912.

SOCIETY

There will be only brief glimpses of society activities this week, or, in fact, for several months after the great problem of November 5 is solved. The dull autumn season predicted has so far adhered to program, and the lapsed in it have and will interest only the limited number interested in a particular wedding party. The weddings around Thanksgiving will lift a week or so out of the commonplace, as several of the prettiest events of the year are on the cards.

It is not as dull elsewhere, by any means. The debutantes are being presented in droves, both in the west as well as in the east, and a score of them already have been the central figures of delightful suburban hostilities around Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Country house parties, and not always confined to the week end, are using up a great deal of surplus energy among those who get these coveted invitations, while the Virginia autumn resorts, judging by the news stories every day, are as gay as can be.

The White House family will not be settled there again until a few days after election, by which time all of the cabinet houses will again be occupied. There seems to be quite a number of resignations. Several of the old homes have been almost entirely rebuilt and are practically new, while others have only received beautifying touches which have not disturbed the outer appearance. The gossip agent each in turn which concerns the plans of the various owners, either to install a new mistress or to welcome a new husband, have formed his touch of human interest which has transformed the simplest tea pouring event into a real worth while occasion. When the guest with the practical turn of mind arrives and tells that a "for rent" sign now marks the particular house under discussion, it simply spoils a good story and leaves all the rest of the party to use on the next persons and house under fire.

Master William J. Donnelly entertained a large number of his little friends at a hat and bonnet party Friday evening at his home, 327 A street southeast. First prizes were awarded to Miss Phoebe Fleming and Master Gloyd Turton. Booby prizes were given to Miss May Bean and Weller McCarthy. Several other games were played after which refreshments were served, the guests all wearing hats and bonnets they had made, the brilliant colors making a gay picture. Those present were Misses May and Elizabeth Schofield, Annie Ferguson, Mary Weller McCarthy, Phoebe Fleming, Mary Bean, Mary Davidson, Stella Tappan, Kathleen Murphy and Rommie Donnelly, and Masters Roger Baldwin, Gloyd and Malcolm Turton, Weller McCarthy, James Elliot, Paul Radcliffe, Carroll Fleming, Butler Walsh and John Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Pringle of Charleston, S. C., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Clara Margaret, to Paymaster David Garlick McRitchie, U. S. N. The wedding will occur early in the new year. Paymaster McRitchie is on duty at the Norfolk navy yard, and is the son of Mrs. Alice McRitchie of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. David McKee of Washington were among the arrivals in Dresden last week. Mrs. McKee was a guest at a breakfast, followed by bridge, at the home of Mrs. E. St. John Gaffney, wife of the consul general, recently.

Mrs. R. W. MacPherson and Miss Ogden Jones of Washington, and Mr. Clyde S. Ford, also of this city, were recently registered in Paris.

Miss Leila Mae Henry, daughter of Representative and Mrs. Henry, has returned from a visit of several weeks at her Texas home.

Justice and Mrs. Robb have returned to their apartment in the Rochambeau after having spent the summer at Palm Beach, Mass. During the early autumn months they made a series of visits to Vermont friends.

Miss Mary Louise Brinker, daughter of Gen. J. H. Brinker, formerly of West Point, Miss., and Dr. Wallis S. Ivy of West Point, Miss., will be married Wednesday afternoon, November 6, at 2 o'clock in the apartment of Gen. Brinker, in the Alabama. An informal reception will follow the wedding ceremony, which will only be attended by relatives and immediate friends of the family. The bride's attendants will be her two sisters, Miss Sallie Brinker and Mrs. Lamar Ross of Jackson, Miss.

O. C. Brothers, Jr., will be best man. Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Weller will officiate.

Bear Admiral and Mrs. Green and their two daughters, the Misses Green, are again at their home on New Hampshire avenue after having spent the summer at Pittsfield, Mass., and the early autumn months in St. Paul, Minn.

Mrs. Ernest and Miss Ernest, wife and daughter of Brig. Gen. O. H. Ernest, U. S. A., arrived in Washington Wednesday afternoon, and joined Gen. Ernest at their home on Connecticut avenue. They spent the summer at their cottage at Buena Vista, Springs, and later made a series of visits to Southampton and other places on the north coast.

A pretty wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whitehead last night at 8 o'clock, the contracting couple being Miss Helen Lettiss Whitehead of this city, and Mr. Henry Harold Moyer of Illinois. The Rev. W. C. McKenney, pastor of Wesley M. E. Church, officiating. Only the immediate relatives were present. After the ceremony a supper was served and Mr. and Mrs. Moyer left for an extended trip west.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rice Williams of Brookland, D. C., announce the marriage of their eldest daughter Jeanetta and Mr. William W. Britte of Lynnhaven, Va., Sunday, October 29, at 4 p.m. The ceremony was performed in the parsonage of the Cumberland Street Methodist Church, Norfolk, Va., by Rev. Thomas.

The bride was attired in a traveling suit of blue with hat and gloves to match. Her only attendant was Miss Rene Anderson of Lynnhaven, who wore silk marquisette over blue. The best man was Mr. Dorice Gregory of Lynnhaven. The couple left immediately after the ceremony on the steamer Southland for Washington, where they are spending their honeymoon with the bride's parents. After November 1 they will be at home to friends and relatives at Lynnhaven, Va.

Mrs. Ali Kuli Khan, the Persian charge d'affaires, is spending this week in Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, as the official delegate of Persia to the International Dry Farming Congress, now meeting there. He is a speaker before the congress. After visiting friends in Spokane and other cities of the northwest he will return to Washington. Mme. Ali Kuli Khan and her children are spending the autumn at their home in Leesburg.

A linen shower was given at the home of Miss W. Verbecher last evening in honor of Miss Elsie B. Sniffin, who is to become the bride of Thomas B. Shoemaker next month. The house was effectively decorated with palms and cut flowers, each girl being presented with a bouquet of bride's roses, and the bride-to-be with a handsome bouquet of roses and lilacs-of-the-valley. During the evening several solos were given, after which refreshments were served. Among the invited guests were: Mamie Quisley, Bertha Whalley, Lillian Davis, Anna Melank, Julia Berans, Lottie Williams, Lotta Griffith, Katharine Quisley, Kate Speck, Amelle Hollander, Louise Lowrey, Cecil Sniffin, Alma Roughley, Jennie Dodge, Kate Balz, Gertrude Kummer, Lottie and Mabel Armstrong and Mrs. J. D. Sniffin. Miss Sniffin received many beautiful hand-embroidered pieces of linen. The same evening Mr. Shoemaker was given a banquet by his bachelor friends.

Mr. James Cleveland Davenport of the general land office of this city and Miss Martha Nelson Malone, formerly of Natchez, Miss., were married at high noon on the 24th inst. in the Methodist Episcopal Church of Cherokee, Ala., the childhood home of the bride. A cousin of the bride, the Rev. Dr. Malone, officiated. The church was tastefully decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. The bride and groom were unattended, a little niece of the groom scattering their path to the chancel with flowers. The bride wore white silk crepe, trimmed with shadow lace, with diamonds and pearls. She carried a bouquet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilacs-of-the-valley. After the wedding the couple left for their home in Washington.
